(Moving Images) (LB 2844.1 C54 S367 2007)

D868 Talking About Child Sex Abuse (DVD, 28 minutes)
Cordelia Anderson, a nationally recognized expert, advises parents who want to know, “How do I talk to my children about sexual abuse?” Two child victims share their stories. “Johnny” was abused by an uncle when he was 10 years old. His mom had warned him about “stranger danger,” but Johnny was confused because the perpetrator was a member of the family. “Melissa,” 11, was abused at home by a close friend of the family. Her parents thought she was safe when she was at home. The viewer will learn how to lower a child’s risk of victimization. (You Have the Power) (HV 6570 T253 2000)

(HQ 71 G658 1996)

Kirstie’s Story: Responding to Sexual Abuse Allegations Involving Children with Disabilities  (DVD, 48 minutes)
This program was developed to provide a framework for key responders to begin to explore issues that arise when an allegation of sexual abuse involves a child with a disability. It is a fictional portrayal of the experiences of an adolescent with a mental handicap who discloses sexual abuse. It is intended to stimulate discussion concerning responses to sexual abuse allegations involving children with other types of disabilities as well, including those with more complex communication needs than Kirstie. The DVD presents fictional vignettes of Kirstie’s story, from identifying indicators of sexual abuse to preparing for the investigative interview. Following each vignette, discussions with B.C. practitioners highlight key issues. The facilitator’s guide for conducting a workshop includes exercises, handouts and overheads.  (Justice Institute of British Columbia Interdisciplinary Studies)
