D740 Sharon; The Decision; Enough is Enough (DVD, 30 minutes)

Sharon: Once an intelligent and sociable student, since joining high school Sharon has become a big headache for her parents. She has started skipping classes, not coming home on time, and is disrespectful of her mother and father. But when the reason for Sharon's behaviour is revealed their first response is shock and denial. With help, they are able to accept reality and can begin the healing process.

The Decision: Manjit, a victim of family violence, is afraid that telling anybody about her abuse will destroy her family and ruin her children's future. Will her silence provide a secure future for her family and children, or will she decide to break the silence to protect herself and her children? The decision is Manjit's.
Enough is Enough: Gian Kaur and Bhagwan Singh had a dream that they would spend the last years of their lives in happiness and peace with their son. However, when their treatment at the hands of their greedy, selfish son and daughter-in-law becomes unbearable, they are forced to say enough is enough. POLICE RESPONSE - BOOKS

INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE

POLICE RESPONSE - DVDs

D1417  Domestic Disputes (DVD, 15 minutes)
Responding to calls of domestic violence is often the cause of assault and death among law enforcement officers. This program is the result of a ten year study on officers who were killed while dealing with a domestic dispute situation. Actual cases are dramatized, showing how the officers were killed and the future officers should be prepared for when handling disputes. Emphasis is made on the first minute of response being the most crucial to an officer’s safety. Other topics include: approaching the scene, indications of danger, patience when establishing control, alcohol and drugs, and exercising correct handcuffing procedures. (AIMS Multimedia) (HV 8079.2 D644 1992)

D2102  Domestic Violence (DVD, 21 minutes)
Over the past several years, Canadian police services have made their response to domestic violence a priority. This important update is designed to reinforce existing training initiatives and explore some of the new and often complex issues facing first responders. Topics covered include: pre-arrival information, priorities upon arrival, dual charge vs. dominant aggressor, documentation, the investigation, arrest options, mandatory charge, witnesses, statements, strangulation injuries, effect on children, interviews, victim assistance & safety plans, MHA issues, suspect-at-large and weapons. (Ontario Police Video Training Alliance) (HV 7936 T7 O58 V.104)

D1414  Domestic Violence Response (DVD, 26 minutes)
All law enforcement officers must be aware when responding to a domestic violence call they are entering what can be an extremely volatile situation. A disturbance can escalate from arguing to violence in seconds, and officers must be able to keep the peace, separate combatants, and be concerned about their own safety. The subjects know where all the potential weapons are, particularly in the kitchen -- a room loaded with utensils that can be used to deadly effect. The complaining party even may turn against officers when the abusive spouse is about to be taken away. No wonder a domestic violence situation is one of the most feared officer survival calls. This program features realistic reenactments highlighting the most crucial training points, as well as commentary from several training experts. (Distribution Access) (HV 6626.2 D65 2003)
D2054

It Started in Duluth: Domestic Violence Law Enforcement: A Tale of Three Cities (DVD, 21 minutes)

A fast-paced, informative look at how the best police departments respond to domestic violence. The film starts in Duluth, MN, home of the influential “Duluth Model” and the first jurisdiction to introduce mandatory arrest. Lt. Scott Jenkins is our primary Duluth subject. Jenkins is internationally known for his authoritative and incisive domestic violence trainings. Next, the Family Crimes Unit in Baltimore, MD, an innovative program that puts a domestic violence detective team on the streets as first responders and follow up investigators. Finally, Bronx, NY, and the 46th Precinct, probably the nation’s busiest domestic violence patrol area. Lt. Jenkins in Duluth concludes the video with remarks bound to inspire and inform anyone involved in domestic violence law enforcement.
